

Rule 23: You Don't have to be the Smartest Person in the Room

Use this chart to rate your responses to each instance your team approaches you with a question/problem. Do you rush to provide “the solution” or do you reflect the question back to the person/team and use it as a learning tool?

Questions brought to me	I offered solution	I get the team/person's solution

